NOW MORE THAN EVER!

As designated by the Department of Homeland Security, we are critical essential infrastructure workers and are trained on using proper safety and cleaning standards given by the CDC to stop the spread of COVID-19 and other viruses.

It's time to secure your FREE Healthy Vending Machine.

TRUSTED FOOD

Consumers inherently trust pre-packaged food more than prepared meals. And, during the recent public health crisis, that was truer than ever before. Plus, modern packaged foods are as nutrient dense as their fresh counterparts.

STAYING IN

Healthy vending machines provide the means for employees or other building visitors to meet their nutritional needs without going out. During the coronavirus pandemic recovery, steering clear of public places will likely remain fairly important.

CHANGING INDUSTRY

Healthy vending provides access to wholesome snack, drink and entrée options. Consumers interested in healthy lifestyles are increasingly turning to these machines to meet their nutrition needs.

EMPLOYEE WELLNESS

Employers are realizing the health and productivity benefits of workplace wellness programs. Healthy vending is an effective way of promoting a wholesome diet in the workplace.

Here are a few of the many locations where we are keeping employees happy with a variety of healthy vending options...
